of the State, and after that more than 500 knights sat down to a banquet given under the auspices of Los Angeles Commandery No. 8, in Blanchard's Hall. The feast of reason and flow of soul lasted until far into the night, and brought to an end the second day of the forty-second annual convocation of the Knights Templar of California.

WORK OF THE CONCLAVE.

Two sessions of the Grand Commandery of Knights Templar of California were held yesterday, morning and afternoon, at Masonic Temple. The business of the morning included the reading of Grand Commander Merrill's annual address, appearing on the minutes as having been delivered Tuesday, reports of officers, committees, etc., most of which are still unfinished business.

The principal event of the afternoon session was the election of officers. This was a perfunctory proceeding, as there was no contest for any of the places of honor. The president of the Grand Commandery, Frederick M. Merrill, of Fresno, was re-elected.

There was quite a decrease yesterday in the number of knights present, as many of the knights left early in the day for Catalina Island and other neighboring points of interest. The excursion business was quite brisk and things were rather quiet around the headquarters of the various commanderies, according to the city in the evening and had to contribute to the "hot time in the old town" last night.

The devotion of the knights, yesterday,

Sir Knight Samuel H. Hopkins, representative of the Grand Commandery of New York, announced the death of Charles E. Ide of New York, and paid a fitting and eloquent tribute to that distinguished Mason. The Grand Commander and Sir Knight Milo S. Davis also joined in the tribute.

ANNUAL ADDRESS.

The retiring Grand Commander, John Francis Merrill of San Francisco, delivered his annual address before the convocation in opening yesterday's session of the grand body. He said:

"It is with a heart full of love and gratitude that I welcome you all to the forty-second annual convocation of this grand body—in this beautiful city of Los Angeles—a city noted for its unbounded hospitality, and for the true Templar spirit which exists in its commandery."

GROWTH AND PROSPERITY.

In speaking on the subject of membership, the Grand Commander said: "The year just closing will, I think, show a marked increase in our membership over the previous year, which I attribute to a better financial condition of the country, and in this connection would say that we should always scrutinize most closely the material we allow to cross the portals of our asylum and allow none to cross except those of whom there is not the shadow of a doubt. Quality is far better than quantity in an order like ours. Work diligently, Sir Knights, to keep its moral tone at the highest point, to the glory of the order and to the cross which is emblazoned upon its banner."

WINE BIBBING TABOOS.

The use of wine at Masonic banquets was opposed as follows: "I am happy to inform you that I believe the old habit of having wine at our banquets is gradually passing away, and I am always glad to congratulate our knights when I find their banquets free from wine. Grand Commanders who have preceded me have nobly spoken matter with the local commandery where the convocation is held."

PRIZE FOR LOS ANGELES.

The reports of department commanders and inspectors, with comments and statistical tables, were embodied in the address. The report on Los Angeles Commandery, No. 8, was as follows: "I have rarely visited a commandery either in an official capacity or otherwise, that impressed me as being a nobler body of men than Los Angeles. The reports were well worked moves with dignity and ceremonial correctness. Numbering 370, it is a body of men, splendidly equipped, perfect in ritual, exceptional in fact, makes one realize the possibilities that the order holds for superior work. Generosity and hospitality have long since marked Los Angeles Commandery, No. 8, for their own."

CLOSING WORDS.

In closing his address, the Grand Commander said, in part: "In laying down my scepter of office, which I shall now soon do, I desire to take the opportunity of again thanking you, for the knightly courtesies you have always extended to me during the sixteen years of service in this grand body, and for the high honors you have conferred upon me."

RED CROSS DEGREE.

The work exemplified. To Southern California Commandery, No. 37, of Pomona, the youngest commandery in the State, was accorded the honor of exemplifying the work of the Imperial Red Cross degree, at Masonic Temple last night.

Owing to its youth the Pomona commandery was given the tail-end of the procession at the grand review on Tuesday afternoon, but the tail-enders were the star actors in last night's proceedings, and right well they acquitted themselves.

THE YOUNGEST INFANT.

The youngest infant is not always the smallest nor the least attractive. It is the baby commandery of California Knights Templar, the most perfect of the family. It is a strong and healthy infant and destined to a prize winner if it keeps on growing and doing nicely. It did beautifully guests of Los Angeles Commandery, at a banquet at Blanchard's Hall.

ROUND THE FESTAL BOARD.

BANQUET AT BLANCHARD HALL. Blanchard Hall on South Broadway was the scene of the Knights Templar loving-feast last night. The banquet-room was artistically decorated.

White Maltese crosses made of white carnations, with the Masonic crown formed of red carnations. Potted palms were placed on the platform, while stalks of pagoda and bamboo were massed in the corners. The tables on the main floor were located in six lines, with a seating capacity of 500. Down the center of each row of tables a wreath of smilax was woven. Bunches of red and white carnations and sweet peas decorated the tables. A table for the toastmaster and the dignitaries of the order was massed on the platform. The menu was as follows:

Olives. Consomme. Relishes. Cold Turkey. Ham and Tongue. Tutti Frutti. Ice Cream and Cake. Black Coffee. Sauterne. Apollinaris. Claret.

Wiener's Orchestra of twelve pieces played during the banquet. The music left in the rear of the hall was decorated with smilax. A large American flag was draped on the front wall behind the toastmaster's table. The places of honor on the platform were occupied by Right Knight James Foshay, called to the platform by Robert N. Bulla, the toastmaster, called the diners to attention. In his introductory address he paid a glowing tribute to Grand Master Reuben H. Lloyd, who had been expected to speak as the guest of honor. The first toast proposed was to "The Grand Commandery of the State of California." Eminent Grand Commander John T. Merrill responded with an earnest talk.

Grand Commander-elect Frederick M. Merrill was next called upon for a speech. He expressed his appreciation of the great honor conferred upon him by the order, and then introduced Past Grand Commander George E. Metcalf of Oakland, who, he said, would speak for him.

Sir Knight Metcalf spoke in a very complimentary manner of the Los Angeles division of Knights Templar and of the city and people generally. He adverted to the literature Los Angeles was sending out to let the world know what is here, and commended the efforts of the order to let the world know by saying that Los Angeles was taking the lead in Templary. His remarks were warmly received.

The next speaker, Joseph C. Campbell, commander of Golden Gate Commandery, No. 1, of San Francisco, in responding to the toast "Our Country and Our Flag," he began by saying that the flag of the United States has fallen the sword of the Red Cross degree is a most loyal citizen of the world, and he has in hand, the cross in the other and help to plant it on every hilltop in the world.

"We hear much now of the doctrine of imperialism," continued the speaker. "If it means the spreading of the flag of the United States, then let us have more of it. If it means the establishment of free schools in the Philippines, the spread of Christianity and uplifting of morality in those islands, then let us have more of it. Our flag has been planted in the archipelago, and stricken be the arm that attempts to draw it down, and paled be the tongue that mocks it."

Mr. Campbell closed with a brilliant peroration. He said that the order, as we cannot comprehend ourselves, what a grand, what a wonderful country we have and what a grand reputation we have built among the liberty-loving people of the world. Let all other nations have their national colors, but let us free American citizens, each and all of us for himself sing "My Country, 'Tis of Thee."

TREMENDOUS APPLAUSE.

Tremendous applause followed Mr. Campbell's remarks, and the assembled knights sang "America with a will, after which three rousing cheers were given for the orator. Other speakers of the evening were Judges Mosholder of San Diego, R. Beverly Cole, Commander of California Commandery, No. 1, of San Francisco, and Past Grand Commander Frederick of Arizona. Commander Cole's remarks were exceedingly happy and created great enthusiasm.

Grand Commander Merrill just before the close of the banquet, proposed a toast to the health of Los Angeles Commandery, No. 8, which was drunk standing, and briefly responded to by Commander J. A. Foshay.

IT WAS AFTER 12:30 O'CLOCK.

It was after 12:30 o'clock when the banquet was adjourned.

ON PLEASURE BENT.

VISITORS SEEING SIGHTS. The Knights Templar who were not duty bound to attend the sessions of the convocation yesterday, took themselves with their wives and daughters to the sea at Catalina. The special train on the Southern Pacific left the depot at 8:30 a.m., bearing a crowd numbering about 350, all bound for the steamship for the return trip, after having spent five hours on the island. The return train arrived in Los Angeles at 8:30 o'clock last night.

Large numbers of the visitors within our gates, who were on their way for the ocean journey, went by electric car to Mt. Lowe. Several trolley cars were seen on the line in Pasadena, Baldwin's ranch and San Gabriel. Many of the strangers spent the day in car rides about the city.

EXCURSIONS TODAY.

Los Angeles Commandery, No. 8, will entertain visiting Sir Knights and ladies today with free excursions to Pasadena and Santa Monica. Light refreshments will be served at the Hotel Green in Pasadena, and at the Arcadia Hotel in Santa Monica. The free tickets, good going and returning on any of the Pasadena and Pacific Electric cars, can be secured at the

at the Masonic Temple on Hill street. All guests are invited to take one or both excursions.

Small parties from the different hotels will make special trips by rail to the various seashore resorts, and to Mt. Lowe. Tallyhoes will be also used to carry many around the neighboring country.

MANY VISITORS.

A calculation made from figures furnished by the railroad passenger agents, shows that considerably more than 500 visitors came from the north in special trains. The delegations from Southern California commanderies generally used the regular train service. Many of the visiting Sir Knights came from the north on the regular trains, being unable to make connections with the special excursions. A conservative estimate places the number of out-of-town people here in attendance on the Knights Templar functions, at 2000. All the railroads made a reduced rate of one and one-third fare from all points in Southern California.

CONCLAVE NOTES.

ENTERTAINED LAST EVENING. Eminent Commander John Tonningsen of California, Commandery of San Francisco, and his wife, entertained last evening in their parlors in the Hollenbeck Hotel. The Sir Knights of California Commandery, together with their ladies, and members of the local commanderies, were the guests.

The affair was in the nature of a celebration of the closing of Sir John Tonningsen's first year's service as commander. Thomas Morton, treasurer of the commandery, gave the principal address on "The Achievements of California Commandery." In the last year the commandery has taken in sixty-one new members, the largest enrollment of any of the California bodies. The commandery funds have been increased by $1000. The membership at present is 387.

Frank W. Marston, a thirty-second degree Mason, also spoke on the wonderful growth of the commandery, paying a tribute to the ability and energy of Commander Tonningsen. The entire delegation from California Commandery will journey to Santa Monica today, taking dinner at Hotel Arcadia.

Golden Gate Commandery of San Francisco held an open reception tonight at its parlors in the Westminster to all Sir Knights and their ladies.

The San José Commandery tendered a reception last evening at the Van Nuys, Broadway, to the grand officers and staff of the Grand Commandery. The festivities extended far into the night, as many of the guests remained at the banquet at Blanchard's Hall was finished.

RUMORED HOLD-UPS.

FOOTPADS ARE SAID TO BE STILL BUST.

There was a persistent rumor in the street last night that a man and woman had been held up and robbed on Pico Heights. The matter was not reported to the police or the detectives, and no authentic details of the alleged occurrence could be obtained. The story passed current among street-car men as early as 9 o'clock last night, and by 1 o'clock this morning had been demanded to the extent that at least three daring hold-ups had occurred on the Heights.

From a consensus of the rumors about last night, it appears that a man and woman, residents of Pico Heights, were held up near the corner of Pico and Bush streets about 9 o'clock. They were just starting for town, as the story goes, and were waiting for a car when two men stepped up to them and demanded their money and valuables. The highwaymen secured the watches and rings of the couple, together with what money they had, and then made off.

The man and woman were very badly frightened by their experience. They boarded a car bound for the city, and as they had no money were obliged to tell their story to the conductor. A passenger on the car overheard what they had to say and he in turn told Deputy Sheriff Rico. Delightful inquiry at the headquarters of the Los Angeles Railway Company failed to elicit any further particulars, although all the men said they had heard of the hold-up. The man was also stated that a man had been robbed of quite a sum of money at Washington and Bush streets shortly after the couple on Pico Heights were held up. If the hold-ups occurred as
